Tangsi Beach, better known as Pink Beach is on the island's far south-eastern shore, and it's one of the only 10 pink sand beaches in the world. Indonesia boasts two beautiful pink beaches – the other is on Lombok's neighbor island, Flores.

The waves bring millions of dead red coral fragments to the beach, blending them with the white sand and giving it its glorious pink tint.

Your guide will drive you to Telong Elong harbor – around 60min drive from the hotel. There you will get on your private boat and you will make your way to the most eastern tip of Lombok. On the way to the pink beach you will stop at a sand bank island (depending on the tide), some snorkeling spots before going to the pink beach for more swimming and relaxing.
